Interiors of

Barton's Water Pipe and Couplings.

These pipes are suitable for either water, oil or gas and are made to sustain a pressure of 300 pounds to the square inch, or a gravity head of over 600 feet. Water can be brought from any elevation in them without leak or waste. The tube is made of the best pig iron sound and true, being thoroughly annealed, is specially bound with strong iron bands of suitable strength for any required pressure. The whole exterior is then given a coat of asphaltum, which protects the pipe from rust and the wood from insects or decay. The pipe is made in 2 foot lengths and specially adapted and connected with iron couplings. We manufacture this pipe in all sizes from 2 to 12 inches. The section of the water makes it perfectly water tight in a few hours. In point of durability this pipe exceeds all others. The asphaltum coating adds a thorough and almost everlasting protection to the iron banding against rust, while the wood being constantly saturated with water, will last for generations. It can be laid for from 1 to 4 cents per foot, according to sizes. It is 1/4 inch to 1/2 inch of iron and is equal in all respects to the very best standard iron pipe now in use. It will never corrode or give the water a bad taste, as is the case with iron; is less liable to freeze, and can be sent to distant points at a low cost. City or town corporations, or wherever a system of water supply is required, find it greatly to their advantage to use it for further information. All work guaranteed. Send for prices and quotations.

FOR THE CHARITABLE.

A Call for the Day Nursery and Orphan's Home.

The following communication, relative to the condition and wants of the Day Nursery and Orphan's Home, has been handed in for publication, and should receive the attention of all who are able to give even a little to help the good cause:

The Day Nursery and Orphan's Home was incorporated June 12th, 1886, for a period of fifty years, its object being to provide temporary homes for destitute children and to assist them to obtain permanent homes.

The Directors for the coming year are: Lucine Hope, Hattie M. Critchlow, Mary E. Gilmer, J. Cameron Brown, Maria Prout, Katie H. Kimball, Bertha G. Baumbarger, Nellie Benedict, Martha A. Locke, Louisa Payne and Cora G. Snow. The following ladies were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Mrs. Armstrong, President; Mrs. Wilcox, Treasurer; Mrs. Putnam, Corresponding Secretary; and Mrs. McVicker, Recording Secretary.

At the regular monthly meeting in July, the following by-law was enacted: "Any person may become a member of this association by contributing not less than $1 annually to its support, and by signing the articles of incorporation. It shall be their duty to attend the regular meetings as frequently as possible, to visit the Home and give such occasional assistance as may be necessary." It was further provided that application for admission of children to the Home may be made to any one of the Directors.

The Home is now filled to its utmost capacity, and we are sorry to say that we have to turn away applicants every day. Will the public please visit the Home and satisfy themselves as to the work being done there, and then assist us to enlarge our usefulness? Our expenses could be materially reduced if all would remember to send us such second-hand articles of clothing and furniture as are cast aside by them, and also to send occasional donations of supplies and food. Our support for the coming year rests on pledges of monthly payments ranging from 25 cents to $2.50, averaging about 75 cents from different citizens. We have so far been fortunate enough to receive sufficient gifts of food to enable us to keep our necessary cash outlay between $75 and $100 per month. Our regular household expenses between fifteen and twenty constant inmates, and is further increased by the children brought in for the day who have to be fed and cared for. Many of these mothers and children are exceedingly destitute, and have to be provided with clothing.

Please remember to send us supplies of food and clothing.

ROSS-McGUIRE-WALSH.

The Little Picnic Given at Washington.

The following comes to us under the date of Washington, June 8, and will be found quite interesting reading for this part of the country: "Duncan C. Ross, the swordsmanship and athlete, who unhorsed and about killed Captain McGuire in a bout with a lady sabre in Cleveland on Monday, distinguished himself by a like-savage attack on Sergeant Walsh in a tournament at Athletic Park here to-day. Walsh had vanquished Ross in a former contest, and there was great interest in the event to-day. The men fought on horseback with cavalry sabres. Walsh was the better swordsman, but Ross was more powerful than his antagonist and better mounted. Both fought for all they were worth, and bore down on one another in fine style. In the first bout Ross broke his sabre by a blow on Walsh's breastplate, but the latter more than held his own, and the Canadian giant was unable to parry his quick and unerring understroke. At the end of the eighth bout the score showed five points for Walsh and three for Ross.

In the ninth bout the combatants came together like thunderbolts, and cut and thrust viciously. Walsh's horse began to grow unmanageable and kept backing, while Ross pressed his horse steadily upon him. The combatants thus fought their way across the field over to the line of carriages. The bugle call was sounded for the combatants to stop, but Ross continued to force his antagonist back. He struck Walsh a terrific blow across the shoulders which made him reel in the saddle, and as he whirled round Ross struck him in the back. Walsh's horse, which was still backing, reared and fell, carrying the rider with him and half under him. It was a bad accident, but the signal of recall, made down upon Walsh as he fell again, when a bystander drew a pistol and threatened to shoot him. Policemen ran forward through the crowd, and dragged Ross from his horse and arrested him. Walsh had fallen unconscious, and it was some time before he was restored. He said he could not account for it as he conducted as they would so far have his head as to violate the rules of the tournament, and he thought it possible that the padding worn under his head armor might have slipped over his ears, as sometimes happens, and prevented his hearing the bugle call. Ross was released on bail to-night. Walsh was not badly hurt, and it is generally conceded that he fairly won the tilt.
